

Contact Information

Sharron Johnson, Director

811 South 2nd Street
Louisville, KY 40203
502-992-9495 or 1-800-299-0267
sjohnson@cvcky.org
www.wbcky.org

Board of Advisors

Pamela Dumm

Manager, Business Operations
Jefferson Community and Technical College

Tina Coleman, CTP, Chair

Vice President, Treasury Management
PNC Bank

Verna Goatley

Executive Administration, Growth and Innovation
Louisville Metro Government

Lisa Locke

Senior Community Affairs Specialist
Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

Lesia Seibert

President, Xstreme Media
President, National Association of Women in Business

Yvette Smith

Executive Director, Finance and Administration
Cabinet, State Department for Administration

Bill Stone

Owner, Written 'N Stone Marketing and Consulting
Firm and Advisor, Greater Louisville Chamber of Commerce

Tommie Causey

SBA--District

Take It To The Next Level

The Women's Business Center of Kentucky, a U.S. Small Business Administration program, hosted by Community Ventures Corporation represents a national network of over 100 educational centers designed to assist women to start and grow their small businesses. WBCKY operates with the mission to "level the playing field" for women entrepreneurs, who still face unique obstacles in the world of business.

Through management and technical assistance, entrepreneurs (especially women who are economically or socially disadvantaged) are offered comprehensive training and counseling on a variety of topics to help them start and grow their own businesses.

Services

- Free Confidential Counseling
- Business Plan Assistance
- Resource Referrals
- Assistance in Obtaining Financing
- Contracting Assistance Guidance
- Loan Packaging
- Business Development
- Marketing Strategies
- Provide in person, phone and online counseling
- Certification Assistance (state, local and federal)
- Free and Low-Cost Training Programs/ Seminars
- Networking Opportunities

Women's Roundtable

Louisville: First Friday of every month

Lexington: Quarterly

The Women's Roundtables are a forum for women-owned small businesses to discuss topics concerning procurement, financial resources, marketing, success stories and to have multiple networking opportunities.

The Women's Business Center of Kentucky is funded in part through a Cooperative Agreement with the U.S. Small Business Administration.

